

Scaling the Urban Jungle:

It's not often that one sees trees flying in urban Singapore. This one on its way up the side of One Raffles Place is headed towards a new lifestyle centre at the top of one of Singapore's tallest skyscrapers. Come June, the top four floors of the 282m-tall building, formerly known as the OUB Centre, will feature a sports and lifestyle hub, a viewing gallery, and alfresco dining at a rooftop restaurant and bar.

ST Photo: Alphonsus Chern

